WELCOME

This is our spring edition. Well let's hope so! Also we celebrate Easter, all the church services across the Eastern Parishes are listed on page 10, and we hear from our Team Vicar Mark Long about the story of the Easter Triduum.

First a 'pat on the back' for the indefatigable Awesome Auction Team in Leysters whose third event at the Duke of York swelled the St Andrew's organ fund by a remarkable £866.

Heather Shield (churchwarden) said:

"What fun we had".

"A huge number of donated gifts came in from kind people, ranging from pictures, vases and perfume to cakes, logs, potatoes and wine. The auctioneer, Mr Russell Yapp, was on fine form, keeping everyone entertained and getting good prices. An amazing total was raised thanks to the generosity of the buyers and to the pub's proprietor, Joy and her daughter Lyn. Our grateful thanks go also to everyone who donated, attended and spent at the auction".

THREADS THROUGH CREATION

An acclaimed Devon textile artist's dazzling interpretation of the story of creation is to be the centrepiece of an exciting festival in Herefordshire this summer.

Jacqui Parkinson's 'Threads through Creation' will be on display at Leominster Priory from Wednesday 5 June until Thursday 18 July 2024. The installation features twelve huge textile panels, which are inspired by the first pages of the bible. In the three years they took to make, Jacqui used countless yards of sumptuous silks, miles of thread and more than 8 million stitches to create one of the largest textile art projects by a single artist in the world.

Inspired by the same theme, there will be a second exhibition showcasing the skills and artistry of some of Leominster's community groups and institutions. Organised by Priory Arts on behalf of Leominster Priory, an array of events will run for the duration of the festival - including a weekly 'Let's Create' craft activities café, musical performances and theatre, themed walks and nature talks, creative workshops and celebratory church services.

For the full programme and to purchase tickets please see Priory Arts website www.prioryarts.org.uk

Please check the website before you visit as Leominster Priory is a working church and some special services may be scheduled at short notice.

In our next edition we will have news of some very local connections in the summer events.

LENGTHSMAN TO RETIRE AFTER 23 YEARS

Brian Tonks, Parish Lengthsman for Kimbolton since 2001 has announced his retirement. His dedicated service and his tireless commitment to the parish will be greatly missed.

The Parish Lengthsman scheme was started by Herefordshire Council for minor works to be carried out in local parishes, like cleaning road signs, checking on salt boxes, clearing gullies and vegetation, to save calling in contractors from Hereford. Kimbolton Parish Council joined the scheme right from the start and unlike some parishes, has stayed in the scheme over the years.

We have benefitted from Brian's considerable expertise in potholes, road repairs and drainage and his work has doubtless saved Herefordshire thousands of pounds.

There was a similar scheme for Rights of Way and footpaths, funded by Herefordshire Council and Brian checked stiles and kissing gates, repairing or replacing them when necessary. He could locate every stile in the parish and marked every salt-box, essential in winter, with a large stake. The funding for footpaths and Public Rights of Way (PROWS) was eventually withdrawn but the Parish Council, to its credit, has continued to fund both schemes. It was Brian's idea to number each Right of Way and he looked after the planters at either end of the village.

Brian carried out his work in a voluntary capacity.

Herefordshire Council is once again funding the Lengthsman Scheme and whilst Brian will no longer be patrolling the lanes and footpaths I am sure we will continue to consult him, and I am confident that the Parish Council will ensure that Kimbolton stays in the scheme

Thank you Brian for all you have done for these parishes and best wishes to you and Jean for healthier days ahead so that you can enjoy your much deserved retirement.

John Stone

Herefordshire Councillor for Kimbolton and part of Hamnish

THE EASTER TRIDUUM EXPLAINED

There are a number of Church services in the week leading up to Easter. Palm Sunday marks the beginning of what we refer to as 'Holy Week.'

The main focus of Easter begins on (Maundy) Thursday, with the celebration of Holy Communion and the Washing of Feet, a service that ends without a blessing and in silence and the stripping of the Church altar.

This is reminiscent of the disciples scattering after Jesus is arrested in the Garden of Gethsemane; the service on Good Friday begins in silence without a greeting and ends in silence without a blessing, and is a reminder of the disciples and others coming and going below the Cross on which Jesus has been crucified.

Late on Saturday evening or very early on Sunday morning, the Easter Vigil service is celebrated, beginning in darkness with the lighting of a fire and the big Easter Candle, followed by a series of readings reminding us of God's activity in history. This culminates with Jesus' ministry and death, flowing on into another celebration of Holy Communion and acclamation of Jesus' resurrection to new life, and the service ends with a blessing.

So while it may look like three different services, the three services are in fact all part of one service and it is helpful to attend and experience all three in order to fully experience the Easter story.

Blessings
Mark

You can find all the Easter services listed on page 10

Don't panic! It certainly isn't the end, as we will return in the Autumn!
It has been superb fun, with a lovely group and an excellent teacher.
Over the months, we have thoroughly enjoyed learning a range of Latin and Ballroom dances and even a Scottish country dance to add to the fun.
